Reading II: 2 Corinthians 5: 14-17 The Love of Christ
Impels Us

Gospel: Mark 4:35-41 The Wind and the Sea Obey

Gospel Summary - Many people believe that Mark tells this story of the storm at sea to the people of the early Church for a specific purpose. As the story unfolds, Jesus has just left the crowds of Galilee with his disciples and is crossing the Sea of Galilee. Jesus has fallen asleep in the bow of the boat when a sudden storm comes up threatening to capsize the boat. The disciples wake Jesus hoping that he will help save them. The first thing Jesus does is calm the storm. Once the immediate danger is over, he then turns to the disciples and wonders why their faith is so weak.

Reflection for Families - As much as we would like to eliminate the storms in our children's lives, we really do them a disservice by not letting them learn to navigate on their own. How do we teach them this? Much as we don't always like to admit it, our children learn the most by watching us. What do our children learn from observing us in stormy weather? If we're honest, we can probably say we don't always mean to show them what they see; but maybe the most important thing they can learn is that we're trying. Even if we "lose it" (and our temper sometimes) they can still witness us coming back to God for help. Maybe they can see us in prayer, or maybe we can invite the family to pray together for a solution to the problem.

Bringing the Gospel Into Your Family - The next time your family shares a meal together, talk about people you know who are going through some "stormy" times. Maybe it is a neighbor, a relative, friend, or maybe even someone sitting at the table. As a family, think of some ways you might help calm the storm. Commit to some action and be diligent in your follow-through.

PERPETUAL EUCHARISTIC ADORATION: HE IS RISEN! ALLELUIA!

Adoration will close for the Fourth of July on Thursday, July 2 after mass until Tuesday July 7th.
Our Lord, Jesus Christ, the same Jesus Christ that suffered and died for us and is now risen from the dead, is present every day and night in the Monstrance in our very own Chapel! Stop and reflect for a moment what that means. It has been said that if we truly believed in the Real Presence of Jesus in the Eucharist, we would be crawling on our hands and knees to Church to visit with Him and to be near Him. As it is, the Lord of the Universe has one or two adoring Him most hours. Consider the blessing we have here at SMM to have the Risen Jesus present in our Monstrance just waiting for a visit from YOU. We need an adorer for Saturday, 1-2 AM and there are many hours with only one adorer where two are preferable. Won't you prayerfully consider spending one hour per week or even every other week with the Lord who has done so much for YOU? Call Monica 891-9483 or Shelly 353-7739.

HIGH SCHOOL YOUTH MINISTRY

YEAR OF THE PRIEST

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

With these words, holy priests for a holy people, I am pleased to announce the observance of the Year of the Priest in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia.

Our Holy Father, Pope Benedict XVI, has called for this year of grace for the whole church as a new opportunity for priests to grow in holiness and live more fully united to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and for all the members of the Church to recall the essential role of priests among us and in society.

The universal observance of the Year of the Priest began with the Solemnity of the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus just celebrated this past Friday, June 19th, and will conclude on the same date next year in Rome with a worldwide meeting of priests with our Holy Father. A significant part of the Year of the Priest is the commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the death of the Cure' of Ars, Saint John Vianney, who continues to inspire all of us as a priest ever at the service of his people.

As Archbishop of Philadelphia, I invite everyone in the Archdiocese, all priests and all the faithful, in solidarity with our Holy Father to observe the Year of the Priest as a splendid opportunity to reflect on the gift of the priesthood of Jesus shared with his priest. This gift belongs to the whole church and is for the whole Church. I ask of you, sharers and benefactors of this gift from Jesus, to participate wholeheartedly in the Year of the Priest here in Philadelphia.

Our primary participation is through prayer. Pray for priests. Pray for priests as they announce God's Holy Word and celebrate the Sacraments. Pray for their holiness.

An archdiocesan Pray for Priests will be made widely available for use in our parishes, schools and religious education programs and other institutions. I invite you to pray this prayer as families, in parish groups, and alone. I especially encourage praying for priests in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament.

I also invite you to participate through the many programs to be offered throughout the year by the Archdiocese and our parishes. The programs offered by the Archdiocese have been published in the Catholic Standard and Times, this past Thursday, June 18. One of these programs includes an opportunity for every parish, one week during this year, to pray for our priests through the intercession of St. John Vianney as his statue and relic travel from parish o parish throughout the Archdiocese.

This Year of the Priest offers all of us a unique occasion for many blessings. May our observance of this Year of the Priest truly provide the Archdiocese of Philadelphia with holy priests for a holy people!

Sincerely in Christ,

Cardinal Justin Rigali, Archbishop of Philadelphia

SAINT PAUL, PRIEST AND PASTOR

By Fr. Ralph J. Chieffo

As we end the Year of Saint Paul and begin the Year of the Priest, there is no better time for all priests and pastors to examine the inspirational model that Saint Paul has provided for all of us.

In his own words, Paul described himself as "a spiritual father" and "a nurturing mother," forming new disciples by leading them to a personal experience with the Risen Lord. Paul did so by making a total donation of self, offering his whole person as a "living sacrifice (Romans 12:1).

He nurtured their faith.

He provided for their needs.

He protected and corrected them from false teachers.

Saint Paul drew many people to Christ as an inspirational preacher and teacher because he practiced what he preached. Likewise, we must follow that example and realize the magnitude of what we preach. For example, the impact of priests and pastors witnessing to a life of charity, commitment and stewardship has no boundaries. It can transform minds and hearts and quickly enable faithful disciples with the spiritual tools to evangelize others and create new communities. It can change lives, one by one and one for all. Just as Paul did, never isolating himself as a “super apostle,” but rather in unity with all, especially his fellow apostles. There is much to be learned from his message that “None of us lives as his own master and none of us dies as his own master. While we live we are responsible to the Lord and when we die we die as his servants.” (Romans 14:7-8)

As a transparent image of Christ, Paul also exemplifies that all charity must begin with prayer to the Father, who blesses us with all good gifts. The success of his ministry, as well as the failures, always led to more prayer of praise and intercession on the power of God. For as Father Raniero Cantalamessa, one of the papal preachers, reminds us: “The opposite of sin is not virtue, but praise.”

Too often as priests, we are paralyzed by our weaknesses and sinfulness. We are human. We reach roadblocks and challenges in our ministry. Like our lay faithful, we have similar questions. We face adversity and challenges that sometimes seem overwhelming. It is at those times that I urge you to remember Saint Paul’s proclamation that “The power of God reveals itself in our weakness.” It is so true. It is at those difficult times when I turn to the best place possible for help – I bow before the throne of God and pray for the grace and guidance of the Holy Spirit. The outcome during these most severe setbacks and challenges can be a renewed growth and intimacy with Christ, for “we carry within us both the dying and rising of Jesus.” So, St. Paul would remind a priest, that success in ministry is often measured by faithfulness more than fruitfulness.

I would often find myself on my knees in daily conversation with the Lord seeking his grace and guidance on how to keep my parish family unified in its support of a daunting church construction project. At times, I doubted if I was the one to accomplish God’s plan for me and my parish. It was emotional and difficult at first. Yet, each time I prayed, I felt the self-doubt gradually diminish as the Lord began to show me his plan. As new tasks arose, I humbled myself before the Eucharist. My prayers were heard and answered, with the Lord revealing faces of my parishioners and brother priests who would eventually partner with me with their talents and resources.

As we conclude the Year of Saint Paul, that faithfulness is similarly tested among a secular culture that glorifies instant gratification and pleasure. It is a culture that questions our commitment to priestly celibacy, just as it does the sacredness of marriage and chastity. Saint Paul motivates us to seek those things that are above and enjoy the consolation of the Spirit, rather than the passing pleasures of the flesh. Paul witnessed how a life in the flesh or a life without God constantly lusts against the spirit. Celibacy for the priest and chastity for the married and single stand as a sign of the spiritual union between Christ and his Church. Embraced in fidelity and permanency, as priests we can encourage both the single and married that ultimate happiness and fulfillment can never be attained this side of heaven.

We often hear that we would not have a vocation crisis if priests were permitted to marry. Yet, other religions whose leaders do marry often assure us that the issue is not marriage or celibacy, but rather permanent commitment. Other religions also are experiencing a decline in vocations and an increase in divorce. The reason goes back to commitment. Period. As a young priest, Saint Paul taught me that the same heroic virtues and qualities are necessary for a married person as well as a priest.

Celibacy and marriage freely chosen are both gifts from the Lord. They help us to bear the fruits of the Holy Spirit which are “love, joy, peace, patient endurance, kindness, generosity, faith, mildness, and chastity.” (Galatians 5:22) If we reject life in the Holy Spirit, Paul warns us that there is no other choice but the life of the flesh or a life without Christ. Paul warns us that a life totally dependent upon our human spirit, devoid of God’s grace, leads to “lewd conduct, impurity, licentiousness, idolatry, sorcery, hostilities, bickering, jealousy, outbursts of rage, selfish rivalries, dissensions, factions, envy, drunkenness, orgies, and the like.” (Galatians 5:21)

I rejoiced and welcomed the call of Pope Benedict XVI to celebrate the Year of the Priesthood. Upon reflection on the Year of Saint Paul, I was encouraged to persevere and grow in my priestly commitments and became more proactive in fostering priestly vocations.

In his pastoral wisdom, Saint Paul would advise all followers of Jesus to begin this Year of the Priest together in prayer: "That is why I kneel before the Father from whom every family in heaven and earth takes its name; and I pray that He will bestow on you gifts in keeping with the riches of his glory. May he strengthen you inwardly through the working of his Spirit. May Christ dwell in your hearts through faith, and may charity be the root and foundation of your life." (Ephesians 3:14-17)

SMM Alumni News: In many different areas our graduates are continuing to make a difference.

Pam Stewart, a 1983 SMM School graduate, started her career in advertising (agency side) and from there moved into marketing. Roughly 8 years ago she transitioned to Marketing Research, working with various brand teams in assisting strategy development for new products, communications, relaunches etc... She worked at McNeil Consumer and McNeil Nutritionals (both J&J) for over 7 years – across the OTC brands (Tylenol Motrin, Pediatrics) and Nutritional brands such as Splenda. About two years ago she moved to Shire Pharmaceuticals, a specialty pharmacy company. Here she leads the patient/consumer Marketing Research efforts across their ADHD portfolio of medications and the GI brands for ulcerative Colitis.

In addition to her career, she and her husband, Christopher who owns and operates a spring/wire form manufacturing company (Liberty Spring USA), have three children: Lucy (6-1/2); Buddy (5) and Joe (2-1/2) and another one on the way shortly! She states: "We are surrounded by loving grandparents and are blessed with a wonderful nanny (Jodi Jamgochian-Jones) who is truly part of our family." Her daughter, Lucy, just finished her first year at St. MM School and her son, Buddy, will be coming next year.

Regina Ciavardini, from SMM class of 2000, has developed her God given talents which is shown through her accomplishments. She attended Merion Mercy Academy high school, where she was elected to the National Honor Society, as well as the Spanish National Honor Society. The summer before her senior year, Regina traveled to Oaxaca, Mexico, to do missionary work. She was an active member in the school's music department by playing the harp and guitar in the ensemble and liturgy group. Regina also appeared in four Merion Mercy Music Theatre productions, including the lead role of "Maria" in West Side Story.

In addition, Regina played the role of "The Evil Stepmother" in Upper Darby Summer School's world premiere of "Isabelle and the Pretty Ugly Spell," where she was then asked to record a CD of the vocal score for Disney, as they were sponsoring an off-Broadway presentation of the play. Regina also played the lead role of "Mabel" in the operetta "Pirates of Penzance" at Devon Preparatory School during her junior year.

At Catholic University of America, she was accepted into the Benjamin T. Rome School of Music as a Vocal Performance Major. Although she changed her major to Spanish for International Business, Regina was the only student chosen from the university to travel with an opera company along the Amalfi Coast in Italy to perform in 3 different operas during the summer of her freshman year. Halfway through her sophomore year at Catholic, Regina transferred to Temple University, where she completed her Bachelor's degree in Spanish for International Business, while continuing to study opera. She graduated in the top 5% of her class, earning the awards of Summa Cum Laude and President's Scholar. After graduating in May 2008, Regina earned her Series 6 and Series 63 financial certifications and began working at Vanguard as a bilingual client relationship associate. On a daily basis, Regina works with clients regarding their 401(k) investments. She continues to study opera and plans to pursue a more active music agenda one of which is singing at mass in our parish.

ARE YOU READY FOR SPIRITUAL WARFARE?

Christianity is losing the Spiritual Warfare to the secular world. We are approaching the Final Confrontation when Jesus will come again as the Divine Mercy to confront and conquer Satan. But we need more apostles to spread the Divine Mercy message. There is a meeting June 25 at 12:30 in the Chapel. For more information on how you can help in this battle, please call George Hudson at 610-565-8098.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR THE DEACON

1. Have a heartfelt love for the Catholic Church, regardless of its stains or wrinkles, because it was founded by Jesus.
2. Be a person of prayer. Always find time for the rosary, confession, Mass, visits to the Blessed Sacrament, morning and evening prayer.
3. Have zeal for souls. Deacons need to help people into heaven and avoid the "smoking section," which is hell. Your ministry can make the difference between heaven and hell for others.
4. Balance family, job and church ministry, and enjoy life.
5. Be faithful to the magisterium and to the liturgical norms. Be neither ultra-conservative nor ultra-liberal. Remember, a bird needs both a right wing and a left wing to fly straight.
6. Obey and cooperate with your bishop.
7. Work with, communicate with and respect your pastor. Don't align yourself with those who disagree with him. Deacons have to be bridges of peace. Like Aaron and Hur, holding up Moses's arms when he needed support, you must support your priest.
8. Respect sacred boundaries. You are a public figure in the diocese. You represent the Church.
9. Minister with truth and charity.
10. Remember the ministry of charity and minister to the poor and the sick. Be a "foot washer."

If you think you have a calling to the diaconate see Fr. Chieffo or Deacons Peter and James. The Church and Jesus may be calling you to this Ministry of Charity.

LAUGH WITH THE PASTOR

I chose a non-Catholic doctor instead of a Catholic one for my surgery in case he heard one of my lengthy sermons and would have removed my tongue instead of my polyp. Thank you for your prayers and love.
