

Saint Mary Magdalen Church

Building a family of faith in Jesus Christ through Catholic Worship, Formation & Charity.

11 JANUARY 2026

THE BAPTISM OF THE LORD

Dear Friends in Christ,

I pray that the twelve days of Christmas were filled with every blessing for all of you.
Today, we conclude the Season of Christmas with the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord.

I just returned with a group of parishioners from FOCUS' SEEK Conference in Columbus, Ohio.
If you have never experienced 16,000 people—mostly under 25—singing in praise to Christ, exposed in the Blessed Sacrament while thousands of confessions were being heard in the next room, well, it is a truly remarkable and transformative experience.

On the flight home, I sat next to Archbishop Pérez. He told me the story about how one day, a few years into his seminary training, he wandered into a small Catholic bookstore in Northeast Philadelphia. He found a copy of Pope Saint Paul VI's apostolic exhortation Evangelii Nuntiandi. Archbishop Pérez opened up the document and began to read. A few sections in, he came across these words:

Evangelizing is, in fact, the grace and vocation proper to the Church, her deepest identity. She exists in order to evangelize, that is to say, in order to preach and teach, to be the channel of the gift of grace, to reconcile sinners with God, and to perpetuate Christ's sacrifice in the Mass, which is the memorial of His death and glorious resurrection.

Evangelization is the Church's deepest identity. She exists in order to evangelize. He said to himself something like "wow, that's good to know!" Indeed, so many of us who grew up in a Catholic culture can assume that the Church exists to run social services or schools or sports leagues. But all of those things exist only to serve the principle mission of the Church—evangelization. If they don't do that, then they should not exist at all. This is a pastoral conversion which is absolutely essential in every parish and in the heart of every priest and faithful Catholic.

As you might recall, when I arrived here, I included these words of Pope Francis's apostolic exhortation Evangelii Gaudium in the bulletin the very first weekend:

I dream of a "missionary option", that is, a missionary impulse capable of transforming everything, so that the Church's customs, ways of doing things, times and schedules, language and structures can be suitably channeled for the evangelization of today's world rather than for her self-preservation. The renewal of structures demanded by pastoral conversion can only be understood in this light: as part of an effort to make them more mission-oriented, to make ordinary pastoral activity on every level more inclusive and open, to inspire in pastoral workers a constant desire to go forth and in this way to elicit a positive response from all those whom Jesus summons to friendship with himself.

Dear friends, Jesus called the apostles to be fishers of men. He gave these weak, ordinary men the power to walk on water, heal the sick, and cast out demons. In response to the proclamation of a dead man come back to life made by an uneducated fisherman from Galilee, five thousand people sought baptism on that first day of Pentecost. That work continues until that same risen Savior returns in glory. Until then, we have our task: to proclaim the Gospel. What is your response to that invitation to share in the work of redemption? What is mine?

A few weeks ago, a group of parents met with Mrs. Amy Bauer and me to discuss ways in which the school community can promote greater awareness about the use of smartphones and its potential hazards to young children.

Certainly, this is a conversation that has been taking place in our country and around the world for a number of years, thanks to books like iGen by Jean Twenge and The Anxious Generation by Jonathan Haidt. In Australia, their Parliament recently passed a ban on all use of social media by children under the age of 16, citing the risk it poses to childhood mental health. Here at Saint Mary Magdalen, we have hosted two events related to this topic: one last winter with Anna Moreland and Tom Smith, on their book The Young Adult Playbook, and one this fall with Alex Haynie from LiveVertical.

Recognizing all this, Mrs. Bauer and I gave our full support to the parents who met with us that day and gave them permission to begin fostering conversations among parents about ways they can band together to keep the harmful effects of technology away while promoting healthy use of technology at age-appropriate levels. It was decided at that meeting to begin with outreach to parents with younger children in our school, and to let the conversation develop organically from there.

This message was sent to school families via the Hawk Herald, but I wanted to include it here for two reasons. First, to demonstrate how important this conversation is. Secondly, to encourage families with children in other schools to consider starting these important conversations there as well.

God constantly wants to speak to our hearts in prayer: consoling us, challenging us, calling us deeper out into the waters. But we can only hear him if we learn how to be silent, and excessive use of our technological devices robs us of this silence, filling our minds with constant stimuli. This message is not just for children, then—it is for all of us, including this priest!

May the Lord grant you peace!

—Father Eric Banecker
